Letter of Recommendation

Dear admission officer,

Glad to write this letter of recommendation to you. I am Cao Yulin, supervisor of Mr. Li Yuanshi at Neusoft Training Center. Yuanshi is a vibrant young man with strong work competency. It's a wise decision for him to pursue further study in Canada and he deserves a larger platform. And I hope this letter may give him support in his application to your program.

Yuanshi worked as a Java engineer at our center. In the project of the Cross-border e-commerce borrow-sell platform, he was the core of his team due to sufficient knowledge reserve and emerging leadership. He actively undertook the most difficult parts of the project, including BVO, Wallet, Data Dictionary and Common Items, demand analysis, function design and implementation, code testing, and writing the final report, etc. Despite a heavy workload, he completed with high quality. Therefore, I highly appreciate his work competency and his positive interaction with colleagues.

Besides, I found Yuanshi possessed excellent debugging skills. While I was elaborating on some problems that frequently occurred in the programming process, Yuanshi rapidly recognized the core of the issues like code error and presented ways to solve them. Furthermore, he learns fast. Shortly after I instructed them on the application of Redis technology in Web development, Yuanshi applied it in dealing with the problem of the front-end in-memory cache and achieved a good effect. He also showed innovation ability during his work with me. It left me a deep impression when he realized the function of looking for logistics information according to Express number by utilizing the interface of "Express 100". The realization of constructing an image database and the function of retrieving images was also worthy of mentioning. He knows how to meet the clients' demands with his technologies in an innovative way.

From my observation, I believe Mr. Li is qualified for a graduate study and will continue performing excellently. If more information is needed, please feel free to contact me.

Best wishes,
Cao Yulin
